DEATHS OF A DAY

Mrs. C. D. McGillen, Pioneer of Chicago

Mrs. Catherine Doyle McGillen mother of Secretary John McGillen of the Sanitary District, died yesterday at her home, 4841 North Paulina street. She had undergone an operation Sunday, and the shock, combined with her advanced age, seventy-eight, brought on the end. Mrs. McGillen came to Chicago in 1848. She was one of the founders of St. Vincent's Roman Catholic Church at Webster and Sheffield avenues. She was born in Ireland, July 11, 1837. Three sons and two daughters survive her.

Harry Shippy, Son

Harry Shippy, son of the late George Shippy, former chief of police, died GRAEF-Rosa C., April 20, at 4206 N. yesterday at Wesley Hospital after an operation for appendicitis. Young shippy was shot in the lung six years ago when Lazarus Averbuch, an anarchist, forced his way into the family residence and tried to murder the chief. Patrolman James Foley was wounded in the hand and Chief Shippy stabbed in the shoulder before Averbuch was killed.

MAJOR LUTHER S. BENT. Major Luther Stedman Bent, former president and chairman of the board of directors of the Pennsylvania Steel Company, a veteran of the civil war and a prominent civil engineer, died at his home in Philadelphia. He was eighty-six years old and was stricken with paralysis ten days ago. After being mustered out at the close of the war he was employed to supervise the construction of the Northern Pacific Railway, and in 1874 became connected with the Pennsylvania Steel Company. He retired as head of the steel company about ten years ago.

SIR THOS. SMITH CLOUSTON Sir Thomas Smith Clouston, well known as an authority on mental diseases, died in Edinburgh, Scotland, yesterday. He was born in 1840 and married Harriet Storer, daughter of William Storer of New Haven, Conn.
